Resume

Carter Hord, AIA, Principal

Carter Hord is the principal of Hord Architects. The firm was founded in 1957 and Carter became principal in 1991. The firm is based in Memphis, Tennessee and has a small office in Alexandria, Virginia. The firm specializes in ecclesiastic work and has a diverse list of projects of broad size and scope around the country. Carter enjoys working with churches and brings to the firm a background in project design and master planning.

Prior to joining Hord Architects, Mr. Hord was a staff architect with Keyes Condon Florance Architects of Washington, DC. He was involved in a number of projects ranging from the 500,000 s.f. Smithsonian Institution Administrative Service Center to the 3 million s.f. Glenmont Metro Terminus urban design and master planning study in Montgomery County, Maryland.

Mr. Hord began his architectural training with his father L.T. Hord, Architect in Memphis where he worked on many different projects during summers in architecture school and as an intern architect.

Carter is licensed to practice architecture in ten states. Virginia is his original state of licensure.

He is married to Lisa Elaine Hord, Architect, and they have two children.
